Welcome to the special issue of the ICRAD Newsletter!

Another year in the story of ICRAD is about to come to an end.

The coordinator team is very pleased to be able to repeat the statement previously made that “ICRAD is well on its way”.

Despite of stones on the road, not least the corona pandemic, the network activities are generally running according to the plans and time schedule.

After a long period with on-line meetings, Skype, Teams, Zoom, Webex etc., the recent Governing Board meeting was held as an in-person event in London.

Although the on-line meetings have worked well – and saved a lot of money on travel expenses - the advantages of at least periodic face to face meetings were reinforced.

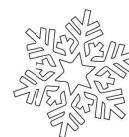

Interesting presentations and fruitful discussions characterized the meeting together with networking activities and joyful social events.

The efforts of our British hosts to make this meeting such a success are greatly appreciated.

Finally, the coordinator team wish everyone a happy and prosperous New Year.
